The great pumpkin

Throwing a bone-chilling Halloween party? This chic 4"x 6" Halloween Party Invitation is frighteningly easy to make. You can customize it—adding all the gorey (and not-so-gorey) details.

Stock up and save

Save on ink

Before you begin printing invitations and decorations, be sure you have plenty of ink on hand. To save money, consider HP high-capacity (XL) ink cartridges, which allow you to save up to 40% on your printing.¹

Save on shipping

Get free shipping next business day with no minimum when you order from the HP Home & Home Office online store!

¹Compared with single, standard HP ink cartridges. Based on average retail pricing, actual prices may vary.

Who better to wish you happy Halloween than a monster? Customize this Frankenstein Card to make your own spooky greeting.

Old-school style

You can add your photo to this Vintage Haunt Card and send it before Halloween to say "Boo!," or after to share this year's costumed fun.

HAUNTED HOUSE HOW-TO

Provide a few tricks for treat-seeking visitors with print-and-scare Halloween decorations from the HP Creative Studio.

All you need now are some scissors, glue, and the spooky sound effects CD you'll never admit to owning. See all our free, printable Halloween projects at www.hp.com/create.

A) Meet Mr. Bones.

Create a Spine-Tingling Skeleton Door Decoration that's several feet long. B) Ghoulish Greetings. Hang a Spooky Halloween Paper Chain Streamer over your entryway to greet trick-ortreaters. C) Ghastly Glare. Use these Hair-Raising Halloween Lanterns to cast a spooky glow! D) Floating Monsters. Print Halloween scenes of Ghosts, Spiders, and Bats to dangle from the ceiling or light fixtures.

Photos make excellent party favors-and you can turn photo taking into a game, too.

- Have your digital camera and a photo printer on hand.
- The backdrop can be as simple as a sheet.
- Then get people to pose in costume or with props, and send them home with instant photo memories of all the fun.

Red-eyed monster

Monster masks are the only place you should spot red-eye this Halloween. You can avoid red-eye by turning off your camera's flash. If it's too dark to forgo a flash, ask your subject not to look directly into the camera, which can help reduce the amount of red-eye. Learn more about removing red-eye, and get rid of frightening photo mistakes with more easy editing tips.

Make paper spider webs

If you've made paper snowflakes before, this is similar. Create your own paper spider webs you can use for décor, place settings, and family fun.

- 1. Fold a piece of paper in half.
- Fold in half again but only make a small crease to show the midpoint. Fold the bottom right corner upwards to make a 60° angle at the midpoint (begin to fold into thirds).

- with the folded right-edge of the paper.
- 4. Cut the excess paper to form a triangle.
- Cut slots on the triangle as shown. Be careful to keep the central column uncut so the paper does not fall apart. If the paper is too thick, consider using an inexpensive paper like HP Inkjet Multipurpose Paper, which is a lighter weight paper.
- 6. Unfold the paper to find a paper spider web!

Print App magic

Much like smartphones, new HP Photosmart e-All-in-Ones let you download free apps—HP Print Apps—to access content like movie tickets, news, maps, creative projects, recipes, and photo-sharing sites.

You can get recipes, printable decorations, masks, pumpkincarving templates, games, and activities—all from the Halloween printables app on your HP Webconnected printer.

Treats for you

Laser printers aren't just for the office anymore. Learn more about affordable new laser printers and stock up on toner.

Spooky votive candle holders

Here's a quick and easy Halloween project: votive candle holders with packing tape transferred images. You'll need clear packing tape and access to a laser printer to make these.

- First, select the image you'd like to apply to your candle holder. Look for vintage clip art online or use some of the free Halloween art on the HP Creative Studio website.
- 2. With a laser printer, print your images out 2" high (or to fit within the size of the clear packing tape you have). An inkjet printer won't work for this project, so don't even think about it!
- 3. Laminate the front of your image with packing tape. Use your thumbnail to burnish your image onto the tape, making sure the parts with toner are stuck down well. Then trim the picture down to size. You can either cut carefully around your image now, or just cut out a square and trim it later. Doing it now is probably easier.
- 4. Soak the image in a bowl of warm water for ten minutes. Then rub the wet paper fibers off the back until you're left with just clear packing tape and toner.
- The tape will still be slightly sticky, so you can directly apply it to a candle holder, or for a more permanent solution, adhere it with Mod Podge, acrylic gel medium, or other glue.

Tricked-out treats

Here's a little trick to transform your treats into something surprising. Just cover some suckers with white fabric, fasten with ribbon, and use a pen to create ghostly faces. Done!

Get tips for printing on fabric and more at www. hp.com/go/everydayprinting.

Pump up your pumpkin pictures

To take pumpkin pictures that really shine, you need to let the light through—and add extra wattage.

- Cut extra-large openings for eyes and big, jagged smiles.
- Use two or three candles inside the pumpkin.

Try placing a small flashlight in the pumpkin!

An easy same for monsters of all ases. That's risht-srown-up kids, too. Try it!

Pin the face on the pumpkin

If your kiddos aren't old enough to wield a carving knife, print the templates on heavy paper. Let the little ones glue or tape them to the pumpkin. Or turn it into a game and play a version of pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey.

- 1. Cut out eyes, noses, and mouths from heavy paper.
- 2. Stick a reusable adhesive on the back of each cutout, and give a set of cutouts to each player.
- 3. Place a large pumpkin on a low table or a bench.
- 4. Blindfold the players. You can always use a tie, kitchen towel, or clean socks if you don't have a blindfold handy.
- Start several feet away and instruct players to walk toward the pumpkin and create a jack-o'-lantern face (no peeking).
- 6. After each turn, take a picture of the player with the finished pumpkin.

📥 printing pointer

When printing things like masks or carving templates, try using thicker paper like HP Brochure and Flyer Paper—it will make the templates easier to trace around and the masks more durable.

Turn your pumpkin into a true Halloween jack-o'-lantern.

Print-and-glow

These free PUMPKIN CARVING TEMPLATES CAN HELP YOU CREATE A VARIETY OF DESIGNS—GHOSTS, SPIDERS, CATS, AND FACES BOTH SPOOKY AND SILLY.

Be a space invader: Just print a Space Invader Mask for an instant, last-minute costume.

Be a princess: With a tutu or leotard she already has in the closet, simply add a tiara and crown from the Princess Party Kit and it promises to be a Halloween fit for a Queen!

Do you have a ball to attend? Add a Fancy Masquerade Halloween Mask to complete the ensemble.

Be a hoops star: NBA Iron-ons can transform fans into their favorite team's players.

📥 printing pointer

For the best results when printing your iron-ons, use HP Iron-on Transfers. Get tips to print your own iron-ons, and create unique apparel any time of the year.

Be a fairy: Combine a flower wand from the Flower Fairy Party Kit with a Strawberry Fairy Iron-on for a magical ensemble.

Be a pirate: Select the Pirate Party Kit and craft your own pirate hat and eye patch. Add a tattered white T-shirt, either cinched with a rope belt or topped with a black vest. Boots can complete the picture and are perfect for a chilly October night.

Bat Bites

From MyRecipes.com

INGREDIENTS

1 (4 oz.) package cream cheese, softened

8 ounces soft, mild goat cheese, at room temperature

1/4 cup pesto

2 tablespoons coarsely ground black pepper

2 tablespoons poppy seeds

8 pitted olives, sliced

32 peppercorns

32 triangular blue corn chips or free-form wing shapes made from leftover tortillas

Fast and fun, these bats will fly off the table.

PREPARATION

- 1. Mash together cream cheese, goat cheese and pesto. Chill for 40 minutes.
- 2. Shape mixture into 16 two-inch balls, about 1 heaping tsp. each.
- 3. Roll in black pepper and poppy seeds to cover.
- 4. Press two olive slices into balls for eyes and place peppercorns in centers for pupils.
- 5. Insert chip on either side of ball for wings; serve.

Roasted Squash Soup with Sage

From MyRecipes.com

INGREDIENTS

- 8 medium acorn squash (roundish)
- 4 tablespoons mild extra-virgin olive oil
- 1 medium yellow onion, chopped
- 1 teaspoon smoked paprika

2 tablespoons chopped sage, plus several leaves for garnish

About 1 1/2 tsp. coarse sea salt

2 garlic cloves, chopped

5 to 6 cups chicken broth

1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

1/2 cup crème fraîche

PREPARATION

- 1. Preheat oven to 375°. Cut top third off each squash. Scoop out seeds from squash bottoms and tops; discard. Trim just enough off bottom of each squash so that it sits straight.
- 2. Set squash bottoms and tops on 2 large baking sheets and drizzle with about 2 tbsp. oil, rubbing it all over insides and rims. Bake 45 to 55 minutes, or until the flesh is soft and golden brown, but before squash start collapsing.
- 3. Meanwhile, heat remaining 2 tbsp. oil in a large pot over medium heat; add onion, paprika, sage, and ½ tsp. salt and cook until golden brown, about 5 minutes. Add garlic and cook 2 minutes more.
- 4. Scoop cooked flesh from squash into pot, leaving enough flesh so that squash keep their shape. Pave over any holes in squash "bowls" with some cooked squash and keep them warm.
- 5. Add 5 cups stock, remaining 1 tsp. salt, and the pepper. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes. Add salt to taste.
- 6. Purée soup in batches in a blender, adding more stock if soup is too thick (cover top with a towel to keep hot soup from spurting out). Reheat in pot. Stir in crème fraîche and more stock if necessary.
- 7. Ladle soup into squash bowls and top with sage leaves.

📥 printing pointer

Halloween may only come once a year, but you can make your memories last longer by using HP Premium Plus Photo Paper, which produces professional-quality photos that last for generations.

Tell the whole tale

Some of the best pictures will be of your kids getting ready for the haunting holiday creating their costume, putting on makeup or masks, proudly wearing it, and counting treats afterwards.

Don't let the bed buss bite.

Be a creature of the night

Plan to take pictures in the hour leading up to sundown. This time of day is ideal because there's still some light in the sky, which means you can take pictures without a flash. And turning off your camera's flash is the only way you can catch all the rich color and detail of a nighttime scene. Past sundown, use a flashlight to illuminate spooky subjects from the side or below. And remember to stabilize your camera. No tripod? Rest it on another object, like a table, a pumpkin, or even a fence post.

Swoop in from above

Or from below ... or from the side. Break from the habit of shooting everything from eye level and experiment with high- and low-angle shots that show both scale and perspective. You can kneel down to capture subjects near the ground or photograph subjects above you.

ζ. Come closer, my dear...

Whether photographing costumes, decorations, parties or Halloween parades, pick the most important facet and zero in on it. By doing this, you'll avoid a common photography error: cluttered pictures with no discernable subject.

A vampire's toothy smile, brightly-colored candy, ghosts flapping their arms, or a panoramic expanse of orange pumpkins in a field could all make a great subject, but not all together.

Take terrific trick-or-treat shots

If you're welcoming children to your door, work with a partner: Have one person open the door and greet the kids while the other snaps away. When taking your kids trick-or-treating, position yourself so that you can photograph them as they receive treats.

SCREAMIN' SCRAPBOOKS

Fangs for the memories

Scrapbook Halloween memories

Halloween may only come once a year, but you can relive the memories any time you want by archiving your favorite photos in a scrapbook!

Tell the tale with photos

Photos are the foundation and inspiration of a scrapbook layout. Here's how to pick photos that will tell a memorable—and manageable—tale.

Narrow your photo choices

From the 50 photos you took of Halloween, choose a handful of favorites. Or look for smaller themes within your larger theme. Ten great pictures of the kids getting ready to trick-or-treat may be a scrapbook tale in itself.

Find inspiration in your photos

Let the magic of your pictures encourage creative scrapbooking ideas. For example, if a photo of your daughter sorting through her Halloween candy reminds you of her favorite treats, hand-write that detail next to the image.

Get scrappy with scrapbook pages

SCRAPBOOK PAPER CAN BE USED TO MAKE PLACE MATS. Use one piece of scrapbook paper for each place setting. You can use borders, embellishments and other scrapbooking elements to dress up your place settings.
